TIMELY CORRESPONDENCE

DOYLESTOWN.

BUCKS COUNTY DEMOCRATS MAKE A SERIOUS BLUNDER—THE JENKS MEETING AT QUAKERTOWN A FAILURE—DEATH OF A DOYLESTOWN VOLUNTEER—COMPANY G MUSTERED OUT.

Considerable interest has been excited in this community by the announcement that the Doylestown Republican would refund to the County Commissioners the money with which they were surcharged for the printing of the ballots and election blanks of 1896. The printers claim that the prices charged were only such as had been established in former years, and that the prosecution was a malicious scheme in which some of the appealing taxpayers had participated innocently. Whatever may be the inside history of the case the publishers have acted fairly in reimbursing the Commissioners.

The soldiers of Company G, Sixth Regiment of United States Volunteers, who have been stationed in Doylestown for a number of weeks, were mustered out of service on Saturday, receiving their pay upon the same day. Quite a number of the men were residents of Norristown and Chester. During their stay in Doylestown they conducted themselves in a manner which won the esteem of the residents. The commanders of the company were Captain Frank B. Astor and First Lieutenant Charles S. Vandegrift, of Doylestown, and Second Lieutenant William H. Black, of Warrington, who were very popular with the men.

A very sad incident occurred in Doylestown on Tuesday, October 11, when John Ely, a son of the late Sheriff Samuel L. Ely, died at his home here of fever contracted in Porto Rico, from which place he recently returned, having been discharged on account of illness from the First Regiment of United States Engineers. Ely was one of the first to enlist in this regiment, and was a brave and dutiful soldier. He was 21 years of age. His death awakened great sympathy in this community, and his funeral, which occurred on Thursday, October 13, was marked by many tributes to his memory. The coffin was draped with the flag of General Bodine Post, G. A. R., of which his father was a member, and a squad of men from Company G attended the services in a body, which were also witnessed by a large number of townspeople and friends from a distance. A report was received here to the effect that Dr. Lawrence Winder, a son of the late Dr. Aaron Winder, who was in the same regiment with Ely, had died in Porto Rico, though it transpires that Dr. Winder, though ill, has managed to reach New York, where he is confined in a hospital. The young volunteer's father, Dr. Aaron Winder, will be remembered by all the old residents of Bristol. A brother, Dr. William Winder, of Philadelphia, has visited the sick soldier, and has hopes that he will recover.

The first serious blunder of the Democratic leaders in this county was made on Saturday last. It occurred when they invited their gubernatorial candidate, George A. Jenks, to address a meeting at Quakertown, a Democratic stronghold. The meeting was the finest exposure of the indifference that prevails in the party that could have been devised. It was a regular searchlight proceeding, which demonstrated that the party in this county is in a most deplorable condition. It seems incredible that a candidate of the prominence of Mr. Jenks, the very head of the ticket, could not attract more than 300 people, which is a liberal estimate of those in attendance. The leaders of the party are fairly dazed by their experience. The meeting has the greatest significance, and is not to be dismissed lightly as an ordinary incident. That the indifference shown by Quakertown Democrats must have out in evidence by the fact that a special car for Doylestown members of the party alone was engaged, so immense did the leaders anticipate the crowd would be. Only six Democrats from Doylestown were present. It all means that the party at large is thoroughly indifferent concerning the fate of not only the State ticket, but that the same feeling is abroad with reference to the county ticket. Had the meeting been held in some isolated spot or in a locality where Republicans predominated there would have been a reasonable explanation for the unfortunate occurrence, but Quakertown and vicinity can turn out thousands when the people are interested, as was shown at the recent reunion of the veterans of the 104th Regiment, which took place there. This party indifference shown by the Democrats has been feared by the leaders, as has been stated in the Gazette, and it shows very clearly why the effort to create division in the Republican party is being made. The Democratic ring knows very well that they can never get out the party votes, and that their only hope of success depends upon Republican assistance. A most peculiar phase of the campaign is that intelligent Democrats are not considering local issues at all. They are still waiting to see what will be the attitude of the party on the silver question before again entering in the ranks. This may seem like a mere campaign assertion, but it is nevertheless true. The Democrats gained nothing by ignoring the national platform and the currency issue. They have become only objects of suspicion. The other day a prominent citizen in this community, a Democrat at his home, declared that he would vote for Hon. Hampton W. Rice for State Senator solely upon the ground that Hagerly, the Democratic candidate, was conspicuous in the free silver campaign in '96. In the face of all this, when Democratic candidates are being repudiated by their own party it would be exceedingly strange if any Republicans should be so blind as to help them out by outting their tickets.

Two train loads of soldiers passed over the Cut-off on Tuesday evening, returning to the western part of Pennsylvania from Santiago.

The entertainment given in the hall on Friday evening by Miss Grace Bonner was very much enjoyed by those present, but the attendance was not as large as the entertainment deserved.

There was quite an excitement in the village on Sunday afternoon. There had been a suspicious-looking colored man around the village for a few days, and about Sunday noon Constable Wharton overtook him on the Morrisville road, and as each were in wagons the colored man tried to get away and drove ahead of Mr. Wharton until he reached the village, and when his horse was seized he jumped and ran for the railroad, where he eluded his pursuers. He was captured and looked up in Trenton on Monday and taken from there to Mr. Holly jail, where he was wanted for burglary. It is reported that he has just served a four-years' term in jail.

The Uncovered Head

In the house is a protection from becoming bald. In the open air the head covering is a protection from the weather, and should be an ornament to the wearer. The regular meeting of the William Penn Building Association was held on Monday evening. An unusually large number of members were present. The treasurer reported a large surplus in the treasury, which it would be desirable to loan on good security.

A special meeting of the Board of School Directors was held on Monday evening to consider the state of the school finances. It was estimated that the expenses could be kept considerably within the income for the year, and a good showing is expected at the end of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simpson had a number of friends at their home on Tuesday evening of last week, the occasion being Mrs. Simpson's birthday. Among those present from Tullytown were Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Read, Mrs. Standfield Smith, Miss Mary Harper and Dr. Frank V. Connor.

Rev. Francis Hawke has donated to the stewards of the M. E. Church enough flag staves to make a pavement in front of the church property on Main street and from the gate to the steps at the entrance of the church. This will make quite an improvement when done and the members and friends of the church appreciate Mr. Hawke's generous gift.

Two very excellent sermons were delivered in the Christian Church last Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Hull, of Lansdale, Pa. In the morning his subject was "The Sweetness of God's Word," and in the evening "The City of Refuge." Next Sunday morning at the above church Rev. William J. Wright's topic will be "Power and Use of Faith," and in the evening "Christ, the Son of Man."

It is something amusing to listen to some of the political talk that takes place in the stores. Some men who are actively working and talking for Swallow in the presence of disaffected these men, Republicans, are suspected of being in sympathy with Jenks. It is safe to bet dollars to doughnuts that these same gentlemen do not intend to vote for Swallow, but are talking in this strain in the hopes of making inroads in the Republican ranks.

Governor Hastings' remarks in the Philadelphia Academy of Music last Saturday evening have done more to puncture the Swallow boom, at least in this locality, than anything that has been said or done during the present campaign. The ludicrous spectacle of the preacher candidate writing a letter to the Governor, whom among others he had libelously attacked, and requesting him to furnish money from the funds of the Commission of Soldiers' and Orphans' Schools to pay the costs incurred in the subversive libel suit, is scarcely paralleled in real life and deserves a rank with the wild claims of Mark Twain or the late Petroleum V. Nasby. The impression is fast gaining ground that the prohibition candidate is too crafty to make a safe administrative officer.

There are few, if any, Republicans who do not consider the present Governor a safe man to tie to politically. He has made a record in the Governor's chair which should place him in the forefront of honest administrators, yet the very abuses which he has corrected and vetoed, and which by the way were not carried in the House of Representatives by strict party votes, but by an admixture of corrupt influences of both parties, are the subjects of the violent attacks of the Democracy, which now attempts to saddle this vicious legislation upon the Republican party, utterly ignoring the excellent services of the Governor in behalf of good government and common honesty.

Colonel Stone has pledged himself to follow, in this respect, in the footsteps of his worthy predecessor, and his past record should lead all honest men to believe that the pledge will be kept when he occupies the Governor's chair.

Where to Buy Coal.

You cannot go wrong in buying your coal of W. E. Leedom. It is prepared right, it is delivered right, the coal is right, and last but not least your weight is always right. Our scales are balanced by our drivers, who weigh their own coal. The public is invited to step on our scales, at any time, themselves, and test the matter. They are Fairbank's standard scales and are kept in proper order. I have been here thirteen years and have always conducted my business on this plan. Question any man who is working for me or who has ever worked for me and you will know for yourself. I have never published such statements as "weight guaranteed" from the fact—that I have noticed—all the short weight men in the coal business have perished that notice. I employ good men and pay them living wages, and they weigh all your coal. My clerk and I never weigh any coal unless we have a new driver, and this is seldom, as men who are used right do not change places if they do right. We are selling stove, chestnut and egg for $5.00 for 3000 pounds, or 5.50 for 2240 pounds. Nice No. 2 chestnut coal for $3.50 for 2000 pounds. WALTER E. LEEDOM.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of Council will be held on Thursday evening.

W. J. Mercer is now at Camp Meade. He is expected home soon at a furlough.

The Ladies Home Missionary Society will hold a business meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. S. Titus on Bridge street.

A meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church has been called for Wednesday evening October 26, by the session and called the pastor's resignation.

Last Saturday morning two Italians came to blows about a woman and one laid the other out with an axe. Constable Wharton was soon on the ground and took one of the Italians over the new road to Doylestown.

A musical and literary entertainment of the Library Association will be held at American Mechanics Hall on Friday evening October 28. In addition to the fine program arranged for there will be a short address by Congressman Irving P. Wanger on the library question, which alone will be worth the admittance charge. The hall will be tastefully decorated by the Committee in charge, and all possible efforts will be made to make the entertainment as interesting and successful as possible. The price of admission will be fifteen cents or twenty-five cents for reserved seats including admission. The success of the affair depends entirely upon the patriotic sentiments of the community in the purchasing of tickets. For this reason the price has been made so moderate that each person or family can afford to buy at least one ticket.

The Morrisville football season opened on Saturday with about 200 spectators, the contestants being the Morrisville team and the Trenton Tigers. The Tigers opened the pigskin during two fiercely-fought halves. This is really the first good game that has ever been played in our town. Morrisville won the battle in the first half on a touchdown by Tuesday. Godfrey kicked the goal and the score of 6 to 0 remained until the close of the game. The line-up:

A NATIONAL STANDPOINT.

Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee Speaks of Colonel Quay.

"The sensational arrest of Senator Quay and his son, which has caused so much comment throughout Pennsylvania, has attracted not a little attention in the national capital," writes Smith D. Fry, the well known Washington correspondent. "The only Democratic newspaper published here merely says: 'It is assumed, apparently with good reason, that it is not a Democratic scheme, but it is part of the campaign which has been carried on by a group of Pennsylvania Republicans for several years. Ordinarily it would be assumed that this was sufficient foundation for such a suit, but fair minded persons, even though strongly opposed to Quay and Quayism, are apt to regard this as a political trick.'"

"Republicans have bitterly denounced the action which has been taken. Their views are crystallized in an editorial interview with Chairman Babcock, of the Republican congressional committee, who says: 'This attack upon Senator Quay should cause all good stalwart Republicans to rally to his support. If the attack had been made when the alleged crime is said to have been committed, or if the charge had been made after the campaign had been concluded, or if it had come out at any other time whatever, it should not doubt Senator Quay's honesty, but I should not look at it politically.'"

"But, coming at this time, it is palpably a piece of Democratic and anti-Republican trickery, and is palpably done for a political purpose, that in my judgment every Republican in Pennsylvania should see through it. I do not believe the Republicans of Pennsylvania can be stampeded by such political methods. Senator Quay and his son borrowed money from the bank and paid it back. That is plainly apparent in the newspaper accounts. I know Senator Quay well, and have had financial as well as political dealings with him, and have never known him to be guilty of a dishonest transaction. I believe that the honorable Democrats of Pennsylvania, and there are thousands of them, will resent this action by their votes at the polls. I am confident that the Republicans of that magnificent commonwealth will stand by their ticket."

A Stone That Grows.

A West Goshenboro (Md.) man tells a queer story about a stone that grows. It is an egg shaped, flinty looking rock, which he picked up in a cave near his home over 80 years ago. Then it weighed about 12 pounds and from its odd shape was kept in the house and on the doorstep as a curiosity. As the years passed the stone increased in size. Six years ago it weighed 40 pounds, and now it tips the scale at 65 pounds. The owner swears it is the same stone, and tells a likely story, with numerous witnesses to back him up.—Ex-Change.

BURLINGTON'S PARADE TODAY.

Bristol's Fire Companies looking Their Finest.

For the past several weeks the Bristol Fire Companies have been making preparations for today's carnival in Burlington. Men have spent hours of time in brightening and polishing their company apparatus. They have had their uniforms brightened up until they all look brand new. Burlington's firemen have made extensive preparations for the reception of the visiting firemen. Their houses have been elaborately decorated and refreshments have been prepared in unlimited quantities.

Twenty visiting companies, together with Burlington's department, will make 24 companies in line, composed of over 1600 firemen, besides the bands, horses and apparatus.

In the evening Winkler's 7th Regiment Band will give an open-air concert from the main steel balcony of the Hope Company on Main street. The ferryboat will make a number of extra trips during the day, and a late trip, leaving Burlington at 11 o'clock.

Bristol Fire Company, No. 1, left this morning on the 10.30 boat. They are guests of Mitchell Fire Company, No. 4, of Burlington. The boys will have about 65 men in line this afternoon, attired in their suits of red shirts and white duck trousers and regulation hats and belts. Their position will be first in the fourth division. The Parade Committee, composed of S. K. Runyan, Allen Lamer, William H. Johnson, William Bellings, Wright Marshall, William Clark and Malcolm Lovett, will head the company, carrying five horses, and will be followed by the Liberty Cornet Band, of Bristol. The officers will then proceed the men in line. The steamer will be drawn by four beautiful gray horses driven by Lyndall Aokers, and the hose wagon, drawn by a pair of grays, will be driven by Robert P. Brudon.

America Hose, Hook and Ladder Co., No. 2, will have the largest turnout in the parade to-day. They took 75 firemen over on the 10 o'clock boat. The new truck is expected to out-pace a figure in the parade, as it will be the most up-to-date affair in line. The boys all wear handsome badges and the usual red shirts, black trousers, white gloves, belt and fire hat. The position in line will be second of the third division.

The committee, Willard Bevan, Frank I. Chambers, James Brooks, Thomas Vandegrift and George Vandegrift will lead the company and will be followed by the Edgington School Band of 37 pieces. Masters Edgar Tites, Albert Valentine and Spring will be the mascots, and have been named Dewey, Sampson and Schley. They and the color bearer will precede the officers of the company. The men in line will be followed by the new carriage, which looks like a crystal ornamented with silk flags and bouquets, and the new truck drawn by a pair of gray horses driven by Harry Bunting. The company is the guest of Young America Hook and Ladder Co., of Burlington.

Good Will Fire Co. No. 3 left this morning in company with the Langhorne Band of 18 pieces. The two-wheeled carriage was decorated beautifully with three arches of flowers and bunting and was drawn by a horse. There were about thirty men who went over, dressed in their bright new uniforms of fatigue caps, blue shirts, white tie and dark trousers. The boys are the guests of the oldest fire company in Burlington, the Endeavor, which received its charter in 1795. No. 3 Company will be fifth in line of the first division, and will make a good showing for a new company.

Bristol Fire Department in Burlington will not be surpassed by any there, as the apparatus is all of the best and latest designs and could not be polished brighter or be in better order.

The route of parade, which will start at 1:30 P. M., is as follows:

From on High street, right turning on Bed street, High street to Federal street, to York street, to Broad street, to East Burlington, to Jones street, to Pearl street, to Tatham street, to Union street, to St. Mary street, to Broad street, to Wood street, to Union street, to St. Mary street, to Pearl street, to York street, to Delaware avenue, to Ellis street, to Union street, down High street to Delaware avenue, up High street to Ashton street, countermarch to Delaware avenue, and disband.

The steamer of the Upper Delaware River Transportation Company will make convenient trips to Philadelphia during the Peace Jubilee celebration. Passengers will have a splendid opportunity for viewing the entire naval fleet from the decks of the boats which leave Bristol. For the accommodation of those not being able to attend the day celebrations, on the nights of 26th and 27th the Columbia will make special trips down the river past the entire fleet, which, it is understood, will be illuminated and give a grand electric display. For particulars consult the advertising columns.

The attention of the readers of the Gazette is called to the advertisement of Strawbridge & Clothier which appears in this issue. There is no doubt but that intending purchasers will greatly profit by the careful perusal of the trade announcements of constant advertisers. A firm that persistently keeps its wares before the public through the medium of the newspapers is the one that is best calculated to suit its customers, as the goods do not long remain on the shelves, and are consequently new and up-to-date. In order to keep turning the stocks over the proprietors are satisfied with small profits.

Miss Julia Tice gave a very enjoyable social party to her friends on last Friday evening at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. William Devore on Washington street. Those present were Misses Bertha Hollings, Jessie Wright, Violet Perry, Mabel McMillan, Abbie Chase, Emma Maser, Lizzie Weyand; Messrs. James White, Edward Himmelwright, Mathias Lincoln, Leon Danfield, William Shull.

Miss Jessie Dalrymple, educationist and teacher in the Girls' High School, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Dalrymple, soloist, also a teacher of the schools of Philadelphia, will give an entertainment on the Friday of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Chapel street, October 21, 1898. Cards of admission 25 cents.

Bristol public schools will be closed next Thursday to enable the children to attend the military parade in Philadelphia.

John G. Sherman on Tuesday moved from Bath street into Mrs. Andrews' house, on Radcliffe street, above Market.

Union Signal Meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Wednesday, October 20, at 8.30 P. M.

Dr. and Mrs. Willis B. Weaver returned this week from a several days' visit at Baltimore.

The weevil is creating havoc in the wheat around Bristol.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

Voters of Lower Bucks to Gather in Bristol.

A Great Meeting to be Held in the Rink on Saturday Evening—Addresses to be Made by Gifted Orators—A Big Turn-Out Anticipated.

The Republican Executive Committee has made all the necessary arrangements for a monster mass meeting to be held at the Bristol rink on next Saturday evening. Thus far the State campaign has been a quiet one, in Lower Bucks, as far as public meetings are concerned. Saturday night's demonstration will be the firing of the first campaign gun of the season.

The rink will be brilliantly lighted and a band of music will discourse patriotic airs. The campaign in Pennsylvania this year has been conducted along peculiar lines. We witness the spectacle of former prominent members of the party publicly engaged in an effort to create discussion within the Republican ranks, which if successful cannot result otherwise than in the election of the Free Silver Democratic candidate for Governor.

It is expected that the trolleys will bring many people from Langhorne, Halmerville, and the near-by points.

Congressman Wanger will be present and address the audience. He possesses a fund of information as to the methods and practices of the Democratic members in Congress, which, during the period immediately preceding the war with Spain, were anything but commendable.

Hon. Robert M. Yardley, of Doylestown, will also address the meeting. Mr. Yardley is a forceful speaker, and especially at this time he will be well worth listening to.

Banking Commissioner B. F. Gillespie, whose reputation as an orator has gone far beyond the boundary lines of Bucks county, has consented to be present and will speak upon the issues with which we are confronted to-day. There is no discount on Mr. Gillespie's ability to intellectually entertain an audience, and with three such forceful and eloquent speakers the meeting will be interesting to all.

All voters, Democrats, Republicans and Independents are cordially invited to be present next Saturday evening. Democratic meetings, which have been held in Bucks county this fall have been flat failures. Let this Republican demonstration be a rousing one.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER.

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY.

That is advice after your own heart. We don't want you to buy here until you feel your way and know what you are about. We are talking about new Fall Goods now. There is price construction going on everywhere much in your favor, here. That is why we say try before you buy.

DRESS GOODS.

Only handsome material insures a handsome gown. The style of the cloth is more closely criticized than the cut. You will find our Dress Goods all right, and prices all right, too. Whether you want Storm Serges, Plain Serges, Habit Cloths, Cashmeres, Novelty Cloths, Plaids or Kidderdowns, we have them. Call and see.

MILLINERY.

To suit the face is our ideal in Millinery. Whatever type you favor, whether dark or fair, or that graceful negative that follows neither, there is a style of millinery that just suits your face. We study your style. You will notice a difference between Our New Fall Millinery and that of other milliners. We have decided opinions on Correct Millinery. Select your hat, have it trimmed to suit your style and see how pleased you will be, not only with the hat but with the price it will cost you. We have all kinds of Feathers, Ribbons, Velvets and Chiffons.

CAPES.

Correct Capes—Capes have the call; not every cape is called, however. You may be out of fashion even in a cape. There are correct cape styles that fashion leaders have passed upon and pronounced correct. We are careful to choose no other kind, and you can get no other kind here. Look at our stock before you buy.

WINTER UNDERWEAR.

You might as well buy your underwear too small as to get that kind that shrinks two sizes the first time it is washed. It is a mistake to buy any reliable underwear—garments that bring pleasant dreams, with a little bit of a price that is just as comfortable as the blankets. You will buy when you see them.

CHILDREN'S WEAR.

We have a full line of Children's Coats, Dresses and Aprons, ready made.

BLANKETS.

If you fear temptation don't look at our Blankets. There is a suggestion of comfort and snug nights in our Blankets that would tempt a miser. Great big, soft, woolly ones that bring pleasant dreams, with a little bit of a price that is just as comfortable as the blankets. You will buy when you see them.
